DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1, 3, 5-9 and 11-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1 and 20 recite the phrase “two-dimensionally applied”, which is confusingly and awkwardly worded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 3, 5-9 and 11-19, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by Morawski et al. US 2001/0002605 A1 or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Morawaski et al. Morawaski et al. teaches each and every structural element of the toothbrush set forth in claims 1, 3, 5-9 and 11-19. Morawaski et al. also teaches that the body is injection molded from a first plastic, on a surface of which a decoration is applied but is silent as to the decoration being applied two-dimensionally (as in claim 1). See ¶ 0040 in Morawaski et al. The claim phrase “on a surface of which a decoration having a decorative first side and a backside is two-dimensionally applied” is being treated as a product by process limitation. As set forth in MPEP 2113, product by process claims are NOT limited to the manipulations of the recited steps, only to the structure implied by the steps. Once a product appearing to be substantially the same or similar is found, a 35 U.S.C. 102/103 rejection may be made and the burden is shifted to applicant to show an unobvious difference. See MPEP 2113.

Thus, even though Morawaski et al. is silent as to the process of two-dimensionally applying the decoration, it appears that the product (the molded part) in Morawaski et al. would be the same or similar as that claimed; especially since both applicant's product and Morawaski et al.'s product are made of the same material.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, since claims 1, 3, 5-9 and 11-19 pertain to an apparatus (a toothbrush) the process that is employed in the making thereof is not limited to the manipulations of the recited steps.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 20-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morawaski et al.

Morawaski et al. discloses injection molding a toothbrush from a first plastic from the claimed method steps that include: applying a decoration on the front and back sides; and then covering the applied decoration with an encapsulating layer of a second plastic, the second plastic injection molded over the decoration; wherein the body comprises a transparent or translucent plastic, and the decoration is applied with its decorative front side facing the body, and the plastics having different degrees of hardness. Morawaski et al. does not specifically disclose a two-dimensional application of the decoration. This process however, is implicitly disclosed since resulting product has the claimed features.
